

I am trying to listen to Kathy talk at morning meeting and someone is talking beside me and I can not concentrate.

I was playing UNO with my friends and they play by different rules than I do and I don't like it. I want to play the game by my rules.

Kathy told us that we would play a game and I wanted to play Sorry and everyone else wanted to play UNO. I don't want to play UNO but I don't want to be alone either.

My mom yelled at me this morning and I am sad and worried.

I am at work and my ride never showed up to pick me up. I waited and waited and no one ever came to get me.

My hearing aids don't seem to be working. I can not hear anything. Maybe the batteries are dead.

I have to go to the doctor for my annual physical after Phase today. I might have to have a shot or a test and that really worries me.

I have to go the bathroom and my teacher told me that I have to wait until after meeting.
